Events and activities of the tech community behind Kiwi.com   View this email in your browser

05/2020

As the situation in Central Europe begins to improve, we have come up with two interesting events that you might enjoy! Firstly, you might fancy joining our mobile game competition. Participants will have the chance to win a free ticket to mDevCamp 2020 as well as Kiwi.com flight vouchers. We have also scheduled an online AMA webinar with the Kiwi.com Engineering leadership to discuss the technology successes of the company.

What's ahead...

Python fwdays'20
[Online, 23 May]
We're community partners of Python fwdays'20! Don't miss out on the second day of the conference that will take place on May 23rd. If you're interested in Python and would like to join the event, use this 10% discount code when purchasing your ticket: F984468257

AMA with Kiwi.com Engineering Leadership
[Online, 26 May]
Join the online event and ask anything related to our tech stack and engineering culture. The panel of speakers will be our CTO, Jozef Képesi as well as our Engineering VP's Stanislav Komanec and Stanislav Štefanič. Register here

Mobile Challenge
[Online, deadline June 7]
In cooperation with mDevCamp 2020, we have prepared a travel-related mobile challenge where you can test your skills and win great prizes such as a 1200 EUR travel voucher or a free ticket to mDevCamp!
Join competition

Excel@FIT: Cena veřejnosti
[Online, 25 May]
Our colleague Vladislav Bambuch is participating in the Excel@FIT competition with his work named Platform for Cryptocurrency Address Collection. If you like his work, please support him here with your likes until May 25th.

Curiosity: Travelling Salesman Challenge
We are delighted that our event helped finish the studies of one of the attendees of the TS Challenge. After a year Ahmed's student from Lancaster University Management School sent us his completed paper based on the data and info we provided. If you have a similar story, please share it with us! Show me his work(pdf)

Orbit: New release
Don't miss out on the new stable minor release of Orbit (version 0.85.0) which contains Typescript definitions of all components and functions. Thank you for all your contributions and bug reports! Check it out

Postscript...

That's all from the news of the current month. I recommend joining AMA which could inspire you or make you curious to join our Engineering team.

Next month you can be looking forward to a live panel discussion with tech companies.

Enjoy the rest of the Month and take care!
